

WHEAT IS AGAIN UP

Chicago Market Stiff and Price Going Higher With Many Sales.

MAY PRICES ARE ECLIPSED

Cold Wave in Northwest Is Supposed to Have Ruined Much Standing Grain.

Chicago, Sept. 13.—Intense excitement prevailed in the wheat pit at the opening, with apparently every trader an avowed buyer. The demand was so urgent and offering so limited that prices for all deliveries were bid up fully 2 cents at the start. The cause of the turmoil was the cold wave which spread over the Canadian northwest last night, practically ruining much wheat still standing. In Manitoba the loss is estimated at 25 per cent of the crop. Buying was on such a heavy scale that it was almost impossible to follow the market. As the session advanced, causes of fresh grief for the bears appeared.

Primary receipts showed nearly 50 per cent of decrease as compared with a year ago, and private advices from the northwest regarding threshing returns were distinctly disappointing. On urgent demands prices rose rapidly, at times fluctuations being from a quarter to a half cent between trades. The high point for May was reached at $1.18 1/2, nearly 2 cents above the former high record mark for this year. The unusual activity continued unabated through the entire session, the market closing strong.

LIVES IN A TREE.

How an Ohio Artist Is Curing Himself of Consumption.

Being nearly dead from consumption, Orin Steinberger, an artist, about forty years of age, built a home in the tree tops six miles south of this city and today is rapidly recovering from the disease, says an Urbana (O.) correspondent of the New York Herald.

For ten years Mr. Steinberger has been suffering with consumption. He went to Mexico and Arizona for his health and remained some time. He did not get any better and decided to return home. He was told that his death was only a question of a few months. He then decided to go to nature and live the life of the birds. He selected one of the largest and highest trees in the country and stated that he intended to make his residence among the branches until he was taken away dead or could walk away a healthy man.

For several months Steinberger has lived in his strange residence, and during that time he has gained in weight and the tan of health has returned to his face. His condition today compared with that of six months ago shows marvelous improvement. While he is not yet fully cured, he is rapidly regaining health.

Steinberger has constructed an odd rope swing or ladder which is operated by means of a block and tackle fastened to the branches. At one end is a seat, and by grasping another rope a visitor can draw himself up the trunk of the huge tree. Around the trunk, where the first large branch projects, a platform has been built large enough to hold twenty persons.

On the platform Steinberger has fitted several large rooms, which is his home. One room is used for a studio, one for a dining room and kitchen and another as a bedroom. He has prepared an earthen fireplace, in which he can cook his meals, so that he does not have to descend for a thing.

On this platform Steinberger can be seen at almost any time in the day, painting in the open air, for the platform commands a view perhaps not equaled in that part of the state.

The tree in which Steinberger has made his home is 100 feet high.

One feature of his life which Steinberger has found particularly beneficial is the exercise of climbing trees. He has become an expert in tree climbing and is now able to get to the top of a seventy-five foot tree with a dexterity truly amazing.

Milk Fever Eradicated.

The successful treatment of milk fever in cows by the injection of "filtered atmospheric air" into the udder is announced in a bulletin issued by the department of agriculture. The air treatment described is simple, and the experiments have been successful in every instance. Milk fever heretofore has been a fatal malady, inflicting great havoc in all large dairy districts. The treatment, according to the bulletin, has reduced the mortality from the disease to almost zero.

What Is Life?

In the last analysis nobody knows, but we do know that it is under strict law. Abuse that law even slightly, pain results. Irregular living means derangement of the organs, resulting in constipation, headache or liver trouble. Dr. King's New Life Pills quickly adjusts this. It's gentle, yet thorough. Only 25c at Chas. Rogers' drug store.

She—I know some couples quarrel a good deal at first, but get along pretty well later on. He—Oh, yes! Some people take matrimony like rheumatism—they get so accustomed to it that they don't complain much.

Fearful Odds Against Him.

Bedridden, alone and destitute. Such in brief was the condition of an old soldier by name of J. J. Havens, Versailles, O. For years he was troubled with kidney disease and neither doctors nor medicines gave him relief. At length he tried Electric Bitter. It put him on his feet in short order and now he testifies: "I'm on the road to complete recovery." Best on earth for liver and kidney troubles and all forms of stomach and bowel complaints. Only 50c. Guaranteed by Chas. Rogers, druggist.

She—I hear that you have lost your valuable dog, Mr. Dudley. He—Ya-as! in a railway accident. I was saved, but the dawg was killed. She (shocked)—Goodness! What a pity!

A Boy's Wild Ride for Life.

With family around expecting him to die, and a son riding for life, 18 miles, to get Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. W. H. Brown, of Leesville, Ind., endured death's agonies from asthma; but this wonderful medicine gave instant relief and soon cured him. He writes: "I now sleep soundly every night." Like marvelous cures of consumption, pneumonia, bronchitis, Coughs, Colds and Grip prove its matchless merit for all throat and lung troubles. Guaranteed bottles 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free at Chas. Rogers' drug store.
